Fun website links

While cruising around the internet last month I came across some rather unusual websites!

This one on toilet paper origami has some fascinating designs for shapes you can make from toilet paper - such as the patterns below.

I also discovered a website dedicated to the history of toilet paper - a Toilet Paper Museum! This is an interesting snap shot of the different toilet papers that have evolved through the ages.

Interesting fact!

The average American uses 21,000 sheets of toilet paper per year!

Have a safe and fun Christmas!

Kind Regards
