

Dear Stephanie

What a fabulous start to the year we have had with the weather. In the sunny Hibiscus Coast, where we are based, the beaches have been well used!

I visited the Eco Day in New Lynn, Auckland on Sunday where it was great to see so many different organisations promoting a variety of environmentally conscious products and services. Using environmentally friendly products is definitely the way of the future.

I wonder how popular this restaurant is? The theme is all around toilet bowls - you sit on them and eat out of them! A rather bizzare way of attracting customers. See the You Tube video here!

Interesting fact!

Between 1990 and 1998 the New Zealand Poisons Centre took 5,340 work related phone calls. 5% or more of these enquiries were relating to solvents; detergents and other cleaners, acrylics, paints and glues; and ammonia and chloride.

Have a fabulous March!

Kind Regards
